The resources will help you to:

- have an idea in your head of the sound you are aiming for.
- remember which rhythm to use.
- practice slurs.
- check your tuning against a key note.
- think about patterns that occur within the notes of scales and arpeggios as well as the ones that you can feel when using your fingers on the strings.
- work aurally and kinesthetically. Follow the information in the glossary and work visually as well.
- be aware of some of the theory behind these examination requirements.

Make use of these resources at home.

In order to help with the exam pieces and increase listening skills and knowledge of different styles of music I have selected some YouTube videos of tunes that some of you will learn.
